SHEKINAH CHRONICLES

By: Nathan D. Pietsch

Dear Friends and Family,

April, 2012

April was a wonderful month for Dawn and I on the USA mission field. Here is a brief list of some of the highlights from the month.

✠ Numerous people received Jesus, baptized in the Holy Spirit, speak in tongues (See Acts 19:1-6.)

✠ Shoulder pain healed

DAY OF SALVATION

Dawn and I went to the final production of the 2012 Beyond the Grave theatrical performance. A pregnant woman in her twenties named, Jessie was highlighted. She had tattoos all over her back, legs, and arms. She also had a very dark cloud around her.

Throughout the performance, I continued to watch her. I was observing to see if she was being touched by the powerful Holy Spirit inspired performance. She did not appear to be reacting in the way I was hoping. Beyond the Grave is a very powerful evangelistic tool. We see hundreds of people receive Jesus each month from it.

After the performance, Pastor Frank Bailey always gives a powerful alter call for salvation. Dawn and I are a part of the ministry team following the performance. I witnessed two people on the ministry team talk to Jessie. She got invited to go up front, but I heard her say, "I'm not going up there."

We learned Jessie was with her in-laws, Donna and Jim. Jim and Donna are both saved, and must have invited Jessica to the performance. They were probably hoping she would have an encounter with the Lord, and receive Jesus into her heart. When they saw she wasn't really responding to the alter call, they headed for the door. This was our chance to respond.

I grabbed Dawn's hand, and followed after them. I waited until the precise opportune time, and spoke to Jessie. "Excuse. I have to tell you something really quickly. I really feel you have a strong call to India. I feel the Lord is going to use you mightily to minister to the Hindu people. I believe you have a very strong deliverance ministry in which the Lord is going to use you to draw people who are bound in darkness into the Light. You also walk in a lot of boldness, fire, and authority. The Lord is going to use you mightily."

As I was speaking this, it seemed as if Jessica was fighting back tears. It was a little hard to tell though. Then Dawn began to speak prophetic words of encouragement over Jessie. The Holy Spirit's words spoken through Dawn pierced her heart. The dam was broken, and Jessie began to weep uncontrollably. She could not hold back. We then asked, "Do you want to get a fresh start with the Lord. Would you like to have a new beginning right now?"

Her mother-in-law, Donna encouraged her by shaking her head, "Yes." Through Jessie's tears, we lead her through the sinner's prayer. We then commanded spirits of depression, death, and witchcraft to go to the cross and never return. Within moments, the dark cloud around Jessie was removed, and the glory of God was radiating through her. We could easily see her countenance change before our eyes.

Jim and Donna thanked us repeatedly. They were so happy in the decision Jessica had just made. We all were. It was a glorious moment. All of Heaven was rejoicing at one sinner coming to repentance.

Dawn and I got to enjoy a typical Louisiana style crawfish boil feast with other ministers, missionaries, and pastors.

Nathan and Dawn at the New Orleans Navy Week 2012.

Navy Week was a commemoration of the War of 1812 and the Star Spangled Banner.

We got to celebrate with New Orleans the Bicentennial of the War of 1812. There were numerous tall ships that came for the event.

Two hundred years of Naval history came to life in New Orleans. There were so many people to minister to.
