SHEKINAH CHRONICLES

By: Nathan D. Pietsch

Dear Friends and Family,

January, 2012

January was a wonderful month for Dawn and I as missionaries. Here is a brief list of some of the highlights from the month.

✠ Numerous people received Jesus, baptized in Holy Spirit, speak in tongues (See Acts 19:1-6.)

✠ Man set free of suicide spirits

BEYOND THE GRAVE

At the church we have been fellowshiping at, they have a monthly live-acting drama performance. The play is a very powerful evangelism tool, as we are seeing hundreds of people come to Christ with each performance. Dawn and I have been able to join the ministry team, and share with the people.

The play is called, Beyond the Grave and was inspired by the Columbine shootings that occurred on April 20, 1999. That massacre left 12 students and one teacher dead. The slayers also injured 21 other students before committing suicide.

The major impact of the drama performance entails, five students tragically being shot to death, and then finding themselves face to face with God.

Three of the students have made the decision to receive Jesus into their hearts, while two of them did not. The drama unfolds when God says, to the believers, "Well done, good and faithful servant... Enter into the joy of your lord." (See Matthew 25:21.) The gates then open and the actors enter into Paradise.

In contrast, the Lord also speaks to the unbelievers. To them, the Lord says, "I never knew you; depart from Me." (See Matthew 7:23.) The lights go dim, and satan and his demons come out to snatch the soul of the unbeliever, despite their screams and cries. The audience is mesmerized by the horror.

Following the performance, the main pastor of the church does an altar call to those who desire to receive Jesus. Literally hundreds of people from all over the local area rush to the front to step into the Kingdom by receiving Jesus into their hearts.

There are so many people at the performance, an entire ministry team needed to be assembled. Dawn and I are a part of that team to help answer questions, and further pray for those people crying.

Following the performance and ministry time, I was looking around the auditorium for any other person the Lord might highlight.

I saw a Caucasian guy sitting in the pews. He looked uncomfortable, like he wanted to run out of there, and I could easily discern it was the evil spirits on him causing him to fidget so much. He was with a few other people, so he was unable to exit.

I approached him and began to talk. I learned he is twenty-nine years old, and his name is Jason. He had piercings all over this face, and tattoos. I also learned he is a music DJ in bars, nightclubs, and anywhere else.

I asked him, "Hey, do you need any prayer for anything tonight before you head out?"

Jason replied, "Ya, I guess I could use some prayer. It wouldn't hurt."

I could tell Jason's heart was being softened by the Holy Spirit, as he fought back tears. I was able to lead Jason into his own personal relationship with the Lord. After he received Jesus, I asked him how he felt. He said, "I have never felt better in my entire life."
