The Year in Review 2022

By Nathan D. Pietsch

The year of 2022 was filled with breakthroughs, victories, and triumphs. It also contained a number of heart-breaks, setbacks, and disappointments. This was the first year in many where I was unable to venture overseas to minister the Gospel of Jesus Christ. We also lost loved ones, but celebrate their departure into heaven.

Dawn and I continue to receive prayer requests from people all around the world seeking freedom from spiritual bondage. On one occasion we prayed for a woman who was very distressed. She was tormented with nightmares, voodoo attack, and physical pain. In the name of Jesus Christ and by the power of the Holy Spirit Dawn and I were able to remove the satanic attacks destroying her life.

Dawn and I had the honor of ministering at numerous conferences and workshops. At one event a seasoned minister of 50 years was in attendance. She had stepped aside from ministry due to burn out and people wounding her. God removed the deep wounding and lit a new fire inside. On another occasion, Dawn and I ministered in Washington State. We were able to train, teach, equip, and impart into the participants. We trained them in the ministry of deliverance and inner healing. God moved powerfully.

Dawn and I have great expectations for 2023, but we know we cannot do it without you. We want to thank you so much for partnering and standing firm with us while we share the love of Jesus. We are so grateful for you.
