The Power to Heal

By Nathan D. Pietsch

Each month Dawn and I pray for numerous people through Zoom or face to face. The end result of the prayers is to bring emotional, spiritual, and physical healing to the individual while connecting them to the Heavenly Father, Jesus, and Holy Spirit. In one session this month we prayed for a 41 year old man named "Alex."

Alex grew up in a family who had a very abusive mother. During the session he had a profound vision. Alex had a flashback to when he was a young boy. He saw his mom standing over him yelling and saying hurtful words. The words were like a whip striking against him. He could see the deep wounds on his little body.

In the vision, Alex began to grow up. He went from a child to a teenager and then to an adult. All along in his life his mother continued to verbally and emotionally abuse him. Her words continued to cut deep wounds and tear him apart. By the time he reached adulthood he was covered in scars and open wounds. That was when Jesus stepped into Alex's vision. He saw Jesus' body bloody and full of stripes from the Roman whips. Jesus then quickened Alex to Isaiah 53:5d, ... "And by His stripes we are healed."

Jesus began to heal the deep wounds his mother had caused him over the years. It was at this moment Alex was able to see the power of Jesus' crucifixion and what He did for humanity. Regardless of the trauma, abuse, or physical infirmity, Jesus has the power to heal.
